CHILDREN'S CENTRES TO BE CLOSED?

Four of five town sites are facing the axe

Gemma Gardner

gemma.gardner@hertsexnews.co.uk

FOUR of Harlow's five children's centres could close under plans by Essex County Council to shake-up the provision of family services.

The move, which is the subject of a public consultation, has been branded a "disgraceful attack on a much-needed facility".

Children's centres currently provide support for families with children aged 0-5, but County Hall is proposing to extend this to meet the needs of the whole family, from pre-birth to 19.

Under the plans a single family hub would be created at Treehouse Children's Centre in Parnall Road, which would open for around 50 hours over a seven-day week. The centres in Old Harlow, Potters Street, Burnt Mill and Harberts Road would close.

Amazing

Harlow mum Nicola Stripp said: "The children's centres are amazing and offer so much support to new mums and their babies."

"I honestly don't know how I would have coped throughout my maternity leave otherwise."

"It's great that we were able to go to the centres so that my daughter was able to socialise with other children at an early age and I was able to meet other mums," she added.

Although Meadows Children's Centre in Harberts Road would close, the site and buildings would be retained to become a 'delivery site'. This would mean the centre would open for a set number of hours each week, from five to 35 based on local need.

The Conservative-led council has said the family hubs, one in each district in Essex, would be supported by a range of local centres also offering services but open when people need them the most.

These include services for pregnant mothers as well as school nursing and health visitors.

But Labour county councillor Karen Clempner, who led a campaign against closures in 2014, expressed concerns about the location of the centre that remains.

She added: "There is one over one side of Harlow and another over another side, which will impact on whichever side of Harlow the centre gets closed. This is another service that Essex will be cutting that affects the most vulnerable."

I'm in! Halfon backs EU stay

ROBERT HALFON

Harlow MP supporting pro-Europe campaign

William Mata

william.mata@hertsessexnews.co.uk

HARLOW MP Robert Halfon said he has chosen his head over his heart after announcing he wants the UK to stay in the European Union.

"Although my heart says vote to leave my head says not to," said Mr Halfon, after Prime Minister David Cameron announced the in/out referendum on Britain's membership of the EU would take place on June 23.

"I think more powers should be returned to Britain, but being part of this alliance of democracies is the safest bet for our jobs, economy and security."

"It is possible that leaving the EU may cause such an economic jolt that we would be back in economic recession. I am wary of taking this risk."

Speaking during a hustings meeting before last May's General Election, Mr Halfon told the audience he would "definitely vote to leave" if a referendum was held at that time.

"The EU has gone too far, too fast," he said. "It has acted against our interests in the economy, border control and tax."

But after the Prime Minister said he had secured a better deal for Britain at last week's EU summit, Mr Halfon said: "I think it is a substantive and good deal. It ensures Britain will never be part of an EU superstate, it keeps us out of the Eurozone and it protects our borders as we can have British border guards in Calais stopping migrants."

Mr Halfon said it could also see the end to sham marriages, prevent migrants claiming welfare benefits for seven years and would cut significantly the amount they can claim in child benefit.

He said he had also been influenced by the case of Duncan McGuirk, a patient on the Harlow NHS Kidney Renal Unit who needs kidney treatment four times a week. But through his EU health insurance card he is able to get treatment in Europe, so he can still go abroad for a holiday.

On the issue of terrorism, Mr Halfon

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

Do you agree with Mr Halfon that Britain should stay in the EU or are you supporting the out campaign?

harlowstar.co.uk

said he was worried that withdrawing from the EU could leave the UK at greater risk of terrorist attacks.

"The truth is I am frightened," he said. "I am frightened Islamic extremists are on the rise and terrorism is rampant. The threats Britain faces from Islamic extremists and other terrorism remain very grave and very real."

"With all this going on and for the sake of our safety and security, I believe it is better to be part of an alliance of democracies of which the EU is a member, however flawed."

He added: "I, just like any other British citizen, have only one vote. The British people will decide. This referendum is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to have our voices heard."

Labour MEP and former Harlow Council leader Richard Howitt said he backed the in campaign regardless of the deal secured by Prime Minister.

"Labour is united in saying a vote to remain in the EU is vital for jobs and investment, for people's security and for our country's influence," he said.

"Our commitment to campaigning was never dependent on Mr Cameron's package. This is a moment for the big picture, not the fine print."

Outrage at proposal to shut centres for children

Parent and service user Angela Dee said: "What about the parents who can't drive and cannot afford public transport? They often need the most help and will be cut off."

Labour county councillor Mike Danvers added: "This disgraceful attack on a facility much-needed in the town."

Essex County Council's cabinet member for adults and children Cllr Dick Madden said: "We want to provide the right support and advice, in the right place and at the right time. That is why we want to know what people think about our proposals to make Children's Centres in Essex more flexible and to expand the support that is available."

Flexible

Cllr Ray Gooding, cabinet member for education, added: "Children's Centres are being included in a larger piece of work that we are doing to bring services together for all families and their children - from pregnancy right up to the age of 19. These proposals are about providing more flexible support to families."

In 2014, the county council closed two centres in the town which they said were not being used and had not attracted the vulnerable people they were set up to cater for.

Cllr Graham Butland, Essex County Council's Cabinet Member for Health also said: "We have taken a lot of care to work with our existing children's centres in Essex and to think about how we can make sure the support they provide is a part of these plans. As such we strongly encourage people to take some time to read our proposals, complete the consultation and make their views known."

■ If approved the changes will be introduced next year. The consultation takes place from February 15 to April 10. Members of the public can complete the consultation online at <http://surveys.essexinsight.org.uk/childrenscentresconsultation2016>.

Ben's on cloud nine after mountain challenge

A MAN who achieved his goal of raising £2,000 for the Essex and Herts Air Ambulance Trust by climbing the highest mountain in Africa has described his achievement as "the best feeling in the world".

Ben Usher, 28, of Threshers Bush, Harlow, conquered Mount Kilimanjaro after a gruelling five-day trek during which he faced temperatures as low as -30C and battled against altitude sickness, limited water and snow fields.

"Nothing can prepare you for this trek but I feel so proud to have completed it for such a great charity," he said.

Ben started training for the challenge by taking part in walks around High Laver, Matching and Sawbridgeworth. "However, it wasn't hilly enough so I upped my game and went and climbed Snowdon and completed some of the surrounding walks," he added.

After presenting the charity with a cheque for £2,700, he said: "I work at North Weald Airfield where the Herts Air Ambulance is based so I appreciate the work the very dedicated team do on a daily basis and how many lives they save."

"My goal was to raise £2,000 and the fact that I went over my target was amazing."

Residents sign petition protesting at cancellation of bus service

William Mata

william.mata@hertsessexnews.co.uk

ELDERLY residents fear they will be cut off from local services when their only bus link is axed in April.

Operator Arriva confirmed this week that the number 7 service which connects Churchgate Street with Old Harlow and the town centre will cease running on April 9.

Jim Baterip, 78, who lives in sheltered accommodation at Fitzwilliams Court in Orchard Lane, Old Harlow, said: "We have started a petition to express our concerns and 53 people in the estate have signed."

"If this service is lost, the nearest bus stop would be Gilden Way which is a 15-minute walk. This is too far for many elderly residents who live off Churchgate Street and Hobbs Cross Road."

Afford

"Fitzwilliams Court residents are typically in their 70s and 80s and the nearest GP, dentist and optician are in Old Harlow. If residents cannot walk to Gilden Way they may have to call a taxi, which they may not be able to afford, or ask the GPs for a call-out which should be for emergencies."

His comments were echoed by fellow Fitzwilliams Court resident Elsie Harigan, 86, who said: "We cannot do without the bus."

"I like to go to the old town and I need the bus to go to the doctors there. Most of the residents around Churchgate Street are elderly and cannot walk for any length of time and the Gilden Way bus stop would be too far."

Frances Savage, 69, who has also signed the petition, said: "This bus means a lot to the elderly people here."

DON'T STOP THE BUS: Residents of Fitzwilliams Court protesting against the closure

HEKp20160223A-698.C

"They need it if the weather is bad, if they need to go to the doctors or generally want to get out. Without it they would feel completely cut off."

And Norma Coppard, 87, added: "I have no family to take me anywhere so I rely on this bus service to get out."

The number 7 service runs from Old Harlow through Churchgate Street and on to the town centre along Howard Way.

Arriva marketing manager Richard

Lewis said it was no longer able to provide a service to Churchgate Street because too few people used it, which meant it was running at a loss.

"Like all bus companies we are a commercial business that is required to run profitably and there is insufficient use at Churchgate Street to sustain a bus service without financial support," he said.

Mr Lewis confirmed the company would be replacing part of the number 7 service with a revised number 8 service between Harlow bus station and Old Harlow via Maddox Road and Momples Road.

Meanwhile, residents said they would not give up without a fight. "There has been no advertised notification of these changes and we only know because drivers have told passengers," said Mr Baterip. "We have sent the petition to Robert Halfon and we will give it to the council."

Appeal over hit-and-run driver

A PEDESTRIAN using a walking frame was injured when he was struck by a vehicle as he crossed the road in Harlow.

The accident happened opposite the Esso petrol station in Tilwicks Road at about 8pm on Saturday.

The victim, a man in his 30s from Harlow, was struck by the car as he crossed the road. He was taken to Princess Alexandra Hospital where he was treated for leg injuries.

The driver of the vehicle involved failed to stop.

Anyone who saw what happened is asked to contact PC Mark Howard at the Chigwell road policing unit on 101.

Services ending in licence row

BUS services in Harlow provided by three companies which had their licences revoked last month will cease at midnight on Friday.

TownLink Buses, Road Runner Buses and Olympus Bus and Coach Limited were fined a total of £25,050 after the traffic commissioner for the East of England ruled they were not of an appropriate financial standing following a hearing in Cambridge last year.

The commissioner also disqualified the transport managers for Olympus and Road Runner.

All three companies and both individuals have since lodged appeals against the decisions.

Why pay more for policing?

SIR I was interested to read Colin Freeman's letter (Star, February 18) which basically told those people concerned about local neighbourhood policing to accept that policing services are underfunded like all the other important public services.

All that was needed to end his letter was for him to say you voted for this rubbish so you, the complainants and barrack room lawyers, are to blame.

If Mr Freeman was to look at the conclusion of the recent HMC inspection report he would have seen it states that although Essex Police was monetarily efficient, its effectiveness needed improvement. If this conclusion is correct, why is the police element of the council tax bill going up?

In short, we are paying more for even fewer policing services.

I have been, and indeed continue to be, supportive of the local police service and in fact actively supported the introduction of local neighbourhood policing in my area. The local residents' group that I started over 25 years ago encouraged police officers to attend its meetings.

It worked particularly well in my area because, with a demographic of elderly and retired residents, overt neighbourhood policing was, and still is, essential. Unfortunately now what they get is, according to the senior neighbourhood policing officer, covert policing whatever that actually means.

Policing in general and neighbourhood policing in particular is important for a sustainable and cohesive society in this country, but sadly residents are not receiving a proper policing service at the moment.

But if being insulted by a local neighbourhood policing officer results in my neighbourhood getting a local policing service it would have been worthwhile.

Gary Roberts
Carters Mead, Harlow

At least let's give it a try

SIR I am grateful for the letter from S. Sadler (Star, February 18) and, putting aside the barbed comments, I agree with nearly all of it.

The last thing anyone with a mental health problem in Harlow needs is empty rhetoric and if the term 'champion' alienates people it should be changed. However, as someone who has had and continues to experience mental health problems and has lived with and befriended others with such problems, more needs to be done on a number of levels.

Yes, urging people to talk about their mental health problems is not new but it is only comparatively recently that it has been profiled appropriately on a national basis and begun to be understood more widely.

I agree there is no point in encouraging people to talk about their problems if there is no-one to talk to and no-one prepared to listen. Such services exist, though not enough are free at the point of use and often not promoted and profiled enough. Access to the right kind of support is a really big issue.

Yes, aftercare is a major issue. Psychiatry without psychology is like putting someone's leg in plaster and then not providing physio when the plaster is removed.

In my opinion funding is inadequate and also often misused. The proper allocation of resources needs to be influenced by people with mental health issues while those supporting them – professionals, charities, families and friends – need to be involved in decision making.

This is not a party political issue. Significant change has been made over the years but no government has ever been able to lay claim to groundbreaking progress and there is cross party agreement nationally and locally that more needs to be done.

Harlow Council has yet to appoint its mental health champions, advocates, ambassadors – call them what you will. A number of people have contacted me to applaud the measure. I say, hold your criticism and your applause. If there is no return on this investment of time and energy I will be surprised but I would like see it given a try.

Let's see someone be a voice for those struggling with mental health problems but more importantly empower those who currently feel they have no voice to say what they need and work towards those needs being addressed.

Cllr Ian Beckett
Spencers Croft, Harlow

Hangout club for teenagers

SIR It often seems teenagers are given a bad name for hanging out on the streets or never doing anything. We are said to be consumed by technology and rely on it on a day-to-day basis. Things like Snapchat and Instagram seem to take up hours of our life because it's socially acceptable.

I believe that we are deceived by the media in the fact that it's supposed to be a fun and social thing. However, tapping at a screen for hours doesn't actually really bring us any closer to our friends in real life.

My mum tells me that when she was young and growing up in Suffolk there was a membership card you would pay for which would let you into a hangout club with pool tables, a netball court and tuckshop/café. Lots of her friends would go and enjoy their time together safely without danger.

Even though they didn't have our technology back then I think that if we followed that example kids would be off the street and into a friendly environment and off electronics at least for a while.

Eilisa Erin Connolly (aged 13)

Parking woes getting worse

SIR I live near the new development of seven houses in Fesants Croft. Many residents expressed their concern that the demolition of the garages needed for the new development would exacerbate the parking issues.

In order to allay our concerns the proposal stated new parking spaces would be provided and not allocated to the new houses but on first come first serve basis. However, all the new parking spaces are numbered and a sign has been erected stating these are for the new houses only.

The residents of the new houses can now park in the street or in their reserved spaces but existing residents are not considered. Due to this I applied to have my kerb lowered but missed the required depth of five metres on my front garden by nine centimetres. I believe others in my road who are considering driveways will have the same issues.

So we are left in an untenable situation and it appears the council is in fact exacerbating the parking problem by building new housing without due consideration for existing residents.

I believe these new developments must be stopped until there is a fix for the current parking situation in Harlow. The council need to stop taking the talk about parking issues and actually do something to assist.

Simon E Cook
Fesants Croft, Harlow

Time to ban these vehicles

SIR I agree with your other correspondents about our streets being dominated by commercial vehicles with little or no room for residents to park their cars.

Commercial vehicles should be banned from housing estates in Harlow. Their number and sometimes size cause dangerous blindspots for pedestrians, both children and adults.

D. Read
The Oxleys, Harlow

Why demolish social club?

SIR I was shocked to see the social club at Princess Alexandra Hospital had been knocked down and replaced with a car park. This club was built with donations from the people of Harlow.

I would love to know why they have taken away an important part of the hospital. I know it owned the land but I believe they also refused to renew the lease.

To knock it down and not recompense the public is an outrage and just another example of Harlow's heritage going down the pan for the sake of progress.

Barbara Daniels
Fesants Croft, Harlow

No respect is commonplace

SIR I have lived in Harlow for 41 years and my conclusion is the best thing about Harlow is the road out of it.

As Linda Jones asked in her letter (Star, February 18), have we have lost all respect? It's all too common in this town these days.

Celebrity pair at LighterLife open day

ACTRESS Denise Welch and TV doctor Hilary Jones were in Harlow on Friday to launch a new partnership between weight loss business LighterLife and the Stroke Association.

The celebrity pair attended an open day at LighterLife's headquarters on the Harlow Business Park during which they chatted to visitors and promoted the company's services.

LighterLife also used the event to announce it will be donating £1 to the charity for every pound in weight lost by new clients in Harlow until May 1.

The company said it chose the town for the launch of the partnership after a study found two-thirds of residents were either overweight or obese.

LighterLife founder Bar Hewlett said: "Given the increasing evidence linking strokes with obesity, the Stroke Association is a natural partner. It works hard to reduce the risk and impact of this devastating condition, helping those affected along with their families."

Jim Swindells, director of fundraising for the Stroke Association, added: "Stroke is the second largest cause of death in the world and in the UK someone has a stroke every three-and-a-half minutes."

"We hope to help even more people lose weight in order to minimise their risk of stroke whilst raising funds for our life-saving work."

Harlow MP Robert Halfon also attended the open day.

Shotgun accused on trial for wounding

Court hears victim suffered injuries to hand and arm

Court Reporter

star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A MAN appeared in court this week accused of wounding another man by firing a sawn-off shotgun at him from close range.

Shea Kenny, 25, of Abbeydale Close, Harlow, pleaded not guilty to possessing a shotgun with intent to endanger life and wounding with intent to cause grievous bodily harm when his trial started at Chelmsford Crown Court on Monday.

Opening the case for the prosecution, Ramiz Gursoy said the incident happened on August 30 last year.

The jury was told Kenny was sitting in a car when he fired the gun at Sam Weaver, who suffered injuries to his hand and arm.

Mr Weaver was treated in hospital for a burn to his left hand and had buckshot removed from his right arm, the court heard.

"Sam Weaver received gunshot wounds when Kenny, who was sitting in a BMW, shot him from where he was sitting," said Mr Gursoy. "There was firearm residue found in the vehicle."

"Mr Weaver was grappling with the barrel when he was shot in the right arm. He was outside and Kenny was inside."

Mr Gursoy said that members of Mr Weaver's family, who were nearby, confiscated the shotgun before taking Mr Weaver to hospital.

He continued: "Scenes of crimes officers decided the gun had been fired from inside the car. There was buckshot in the speakers and powder marks in the vehicle."

Shooting

Mr Weaver's father, Jason, who had gone to visit his four children who all live in Harlow, told the court he was about to return to Telford after dropping off his son when the shooting happened.

He told the jury: "Sam hugged me and walked off when a car pulled up about 10-12 feet away from him."

"Sam walked towards the driver's side and I heard raised voices and something like a bang or a boom. He was pulling somebody out of the driver's side."

"My son Billy ran towards the car and, with Sam on the driver's side of the car, he was pushing somebody out of the passenger side. There was struggling and grappling."

"Billy got somebody out and the man had a gun. I was terrified because my boys were there. Sam came round the back of the car towards where Billy and I were. Sam said: 'I've been shot'."

"Billy was wrestling with the man and Sam got involved in it. Billy took the gun off the man. I pulled Sam away and took him back to my car and Billy came as well. Sam was bleeding."

Mr Weaver Snr added: "I just wanted to get away and got into the car. We went to the flat of my other son, Joe, and went inside. We decided to go to hospital and after getting back into the car Billy put the gun in a black bag."

"He put the gun in the bathroom of the flat and we all went to the hospital where police arrived within minutes."

Mr Gursoy said that when arrested Kenny refused to answer police questions and gave a "no comment" interview.

■ The trial continues.

Warning to litterbugs after prosecutions

COUNCIL chiefs have sounded another warning to litterbugs after successfully prosecuting two people.

Sherine Atkins, of Taylifers, Harlow, and Kestra Cross, of Longbanks, Harlow, were taken to court after failing to pay fixed penalty notices.

Atkins, who did not attend the hearing at Chelmsford Magistrates Court, was accused of dumping cardboard and packaging in a public space in August. She was found guilty in her absence and fined £220 with £180 court costs and a £22 victim surcharge.

In the case of Cross, the court was told she was handed a fixed penalty notice after being seen throwing a cigarette butt on the ground outside the Poundland store at Staple Tye in October. She admitted the offence and was fined £40 and ordered to pay court costs of £180 and a £20 victim surcharge.

Speaking afterwards, Cllr Mark Wilkinson, portfolio holder for environment, said: "Littering and fly-tipping are two of the top concerns of residents and it is our duty as community leaders to help maintain a safe, healthy environment for our residents and those visiting town."

"Every year the council spends close to £2m cleaning up Harlow's streets and housing estates, money that could be better used to protect services."

OLD SCHOOL: Matthew Spring provided medieval music

Pupils take the ruff with the smooth

PUPILS from The Henry Moore Primary School in Kiln Lane, Harlow, took a trip back through the centuries when they enjoyed a morning of medieval history, music and dancing.

Volunteers at St John's Arts and Recreation Centre, in Market Street, Old Harlow, organised the activities which included playing music on several different medieval instruments and learning a number of dances.

The group of Year 4 children were also given handmade ruffs to wear while class teacher Curtis Bilboni delighted the youngsters by dressing up as a medieval bear and dancing.

The whole experience was designed to help them with their current projects in class.

The event was run by musicians Sara Stowe and Nationwide to open in former M&S store

HARLOW: Nationwide Building Society will be one of the businesses moving into the former Marks & Spencer shop in Broad Walk.

The empty unit, which is part of the Harvey Centre, has been unoccupied since M&S closed last year. Addington Capital, in partnership with the shopping centre owners, announced plans in October to redevelop the 60,000 sq.ft. space into eight units.

The Nationwide, which currently has a branch in nearby West Gate, has submitted a planning application to Harlow Council to make changes to the unit.

Bargains for babies

HARLOW: There will be a chance to bag some bargains when St Clare Hospice hosts a baby clothing and toy sale at the Great Pardon Community Association, in Abercrombie Way, on Saturday.

Nearly-new clothes, toys, books and equipment for babies and toddlers will be on sale from 10.30am-1.30pm. Entry is £1.50 and the event will also feature a cake stall and a raffle.

Fire engulfs garage

HARLOW: Firefighters were called to Copshall Close on Sunday morning to tackle a blaze in a garage.

Two crews from Harlow attended the scene shortly before midday and used one main jet and one hose reel jet to extinguish the flames which by then had engulfed the building.

GRAND OLD LADY: Hilda Stevens with daughter-in-law Carole, daughter Gillian and partner Eddie, son-in-law Eddie, son Barry, granddaughter Eve and great granddaughter Shannon

Wonderful! Hilda enjoys her 100th birthday celebrations with family

A KEEN bowler who played the game until she was 90 has celebrated her 100th birthday.

Hilda Stevens took up bowls at the age of 60 and along with daughter Gillian reached the semi-finals of the pairs competition at the All England national championship.

Born in Bethnal Green on February 18, 1916, she married husband Jim on Christmas Day in 1938. The couple lived in Harold Hill before moving to Harlow in 1970.

Mr Stevens got a job as a furniture polisher while Mrs Stevens worked as a sales assistant in Woolworths and as tobacco stuffer for a cigarette manufacturer.

The couple had two children, Barry and Gillian, three grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Eddie Smith, partner of Mrs Stevens' daughter Gillian, said: "She went through the Second World War without Jim, who was fighting in north Africa. She thought he had been killed in action but thankfully he returned from war."

"She took up bowls when she was 60 and kept playing until she was 90 at Tye Green Indoor Bowls."

On Thursday Mrs Stevens celebrated her centenary with members of her family at the Partridge Care Centre, in Partridge Road, where she now lives.

"It was a wonderful day," said Mr Smith. "She had a lovely time and really enjoyed the celebrations."

Child safety a concern after police report

NSPCC 'disturbed' by findings of HMIC

Sinead Holland

star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A CHILDREN'S charity has criticised Essex Police for the way it has handled cases of missing youngsters and sex offences against young people.

The NSPCC was commenting following the publication of the latest PEEL (Police Effectiveness, Efficiency and Legitimacy) inspection by Her Majesty's Inspector of Constabularies.

An NSPCC spokesman said: "It's deeply disturbing that HMIC has rated Essex Police as having a 'significant weakness' in its response to missing and absent children and its preparedness to tackle child sexual exploitation."

"It is also incredibly concerning that frontline staff have limited knowledge and awareness of child sexual exploitation which hampers their ability to identify and respond to cases."

He added: "This seems a remarkable state of affairs considering the high-profile trials of grooming gangs in Rotherham, Rochdale and elsewhere which sharply brought into focus the failings of police forces in investigating these crimes and supporting young victims."

Improvement

The HMIC report by inspector Zoe Billingham concluded Essex Police required improvement at keeping people safe and reducing crime.

She said that while the force had a strong commitment to preventing crime, anti-social behaviour is not a priority, analysis is not routinely completed and knowledge of wider anti-social behaviour is limited.

Deputy Chief Constable Matthew Horne said: "We accept the report's criticisms of the force's work protecting vulnerable people, including children and victims of domestic abuse."

"This is our highest priority and inspections last year which led to this report and one yet to be published on child protection have already been met with significant improvements in how we work to protect vulnerable people at risk of some of the most evil crimes in society."

Essex police and crime commissioner Nick Alston said: "While the HMIC report rates Essex Police as good at tackling serious and organised crime, some of the findings are hard-hitting and disappointing."

"For several decades police forces across the country have not focused sufficiently on protecting the most vulnerable. We must get better at supporting victims."

Accused of manslaughter

HARLOW: A 20-year-old man appeared in court yesterday (Wednesday) charged with manslaughter after the death of a Harlow man at a Christmas party.

William Wareham, 52, suffered a head injury at the Park Inn Hotel in Southern Way, Harlow, on December 12 last year. He died later in hospital.

Bradley Casey, 20, formerly of Palmers Way, Cheshunt, appeared at Chelmsford Magistrates Court and was released on conditional bail until March 23.

Firefighters' Easter gifts

HARLOW: Scores of Easter eggs have been left at Harlow Fire Station for distribution to hospitals in the region.

The eggs will be delivered to children at Princess Alexandra Hospital, Colchester General and Broomfield Hospital.

Fed-up passengers 'getting a raw deal'

Poll findings are not good news for train operator

William Mata

william.mata@hertssexnews.co.uk

COMMUTERS in Harlow are suffering a train service that is "overcrowded and poor value for money," a survey by consumer champions Which? has revealed.

The organisation ranked service operator Abellio Greater Anglia third from bottom in a customer satisfaction of rail service providers in the UK.

Which? executive director Richard Lloyd said: "Our report shows Harlow's commuters are getting a raw deal from their train operator."

"Whether it's dirty facilities on the train, overcrowding or delayed trains, it is clear operators need to up their game."

Almost 7,000 passengers nationwide were asked to rank their local franchise out of five based on the availability of seating, cleanliness of toilets, cleanliness of carriages, overall condition of the train, reliability, frequency, punctuality and value for money.

The findings placed Abellio 20th out of the 22 operators, with the Dutch firm scoring just two stars for cleanliness of carriages and value for money. This contributed to an overall customer satisfaction score of just 47 per cent.

Following the release of the results, Harlow MP Robert Halfon visited Harlow Town station to speak with commuters.

"There are no excuses for this kind of

LISTENING: James Taylor and Kirsty Taylor from Which? were joined by Robert Halfon when they spoke to commuters at Harlow Town station on Thursday service," he said. "Abellio needs to get its act together. Commuters talk to me all the time about cleanliness and delays on the trains."

"Harlow commuters deserve better than what they are getting, they deserve a Rolls Royce service."

Mr Halfon added: "I regularly hold meetings with Abellio to talk about targets. I have arranged another meeting to talk about concerns raised today."

"The next franchise holder will be decided next year. I don't care which company takes it on as long as there is an improved performance."

Fed-up commuters also voiced their anger, with one branding Abellio's service "terrible".

But, an Abellio Greater Anglia spokesman said: "We are making a £40m investment to improve the train fleet, customer service and performance."

"We know there is more to do to meet our customers' expectations, and we are absolutely committed to consistently raising customer service."

What do you think?

Peter Thorp, 37, from Katharines, Harlow, said: "Overcrowding is a big problem and we are made to stand like sardines."

Alice Willoughby, 37, from north London said: "I can't complain about the service but there are just so many people."

Andy Franter, 52, Elsenham, said: "Why am I not surprised to hear Abellio scored badly? They are always delayed."

Mirela Crasmaru, 35, from Staple Tye, said: "I have no problem other than that they are always late."

Barbara Burge, 78, of Old Harlow, said: "In my experience it has always been very good. I have no reason to complain."

Bride-to-be completes weekly parkrun hours before tying the knot Church on time is no problem for Anna!

William Mata

william.mata@hertsexnews.co.uk

A BRIDE found the perfect way to forget her wedding day nerves by swapping her high heels for running shoes and taking part in the weekly parkrun in Harlow Town Park.

Anna Baker replaced her normal running gear for a wedding-style dress and blue wig when she and a group of friends completed the 5km circuit just a few hours before marrying fiancé Michael Robey on Saturday.

"I wanted to burn off some energy," said 32-year-old Anna, of The Ridgeways, Harlow.

"I do the parkrun every Saturday and it is part of my weekend routine.

"The fact the wedding was not until after lunch meant I could keep to my routine."

She added: "I mentioned it to some friends and everyone said we should complete it in fancy dress. Fellow members of Harlow Running Club joined me in suits and ties.

"I ran in a white dress similar to my wedding dress, so I wasn't going for a personal best."

Despite the challenges of running in a dress and blue wig and posing for photographs along the way, Anna finished the course in a respectable time of 28 minutes and 18 seconds.

Arch

Before the start she was presented with a card and a bottle of bucks fizz. Towards the end of the run her friends ran ahead of her and formed an arch before showering her in rose petals as she crossed the line.

"I was feeling very excited about the whole day, although I had to say I was looking forward to the wedding more," said Anna.

"I knew I would have a little time in the morning with not a lot to do so I thought it would be good to go and burn off some energy.

"Michael doesn't like running. Together we do snowboarding which is why we are going to Austria for our honeymoon."

Anna, who moved to Harlow last year, has been taking part in the parkrun since August.

"I like the community feel and I have made so many friends through it," she said.

"They're a great bunch of people and it was nice to share this with my parkrun friends in the morning as they could not all come to the wedding."

Vicky Calver, event director at Harlow parkrun said: "What a totally awesome thing to do.

"We wish her all the very best and look forward to hearing about how the rest of the day went."

Anna and Michael, who have a two-year-old son called Henry, tied the knot at Hertford Castle.

Bruno to host charity boxing legends event

FORMER world heavyweight boxing champion Frank Bruno will host a fundraising evening in aid of a charity that provides sporting opportunities for disabled children across Essex.

The Legends of Boxing evening in aid of the Presidents Sporting Club and Essex Disabled Sports Foundation will take place at the Manor of Groves Hotel in High Wych on Monday, March 7.

Club president Bruno will be joined by other celebrity boxers including former world welterweight champion John H Stracey and former world middleweight champion Jason Matthews, who trains at Japped Gym in Harlow, as well as Charlie Magri, Dave 'Boy' Green, James Cook, Colin McMillan and Maurice Hope.

Tickets at £50 include a three-course meal. For details visit presidentssportingclub.co.uk.

Fire safety message

BUSES in seven towns, including Harlow, will be carrying warnings about kitchen safety as part of a new campaign by Essex County Fire and Rescue Service.

In the past three years the county's firefighters have been called to more than 1,500 blazes which started in kitchens.

Figures show that more house fires in Essex start in the kitchen than in any other room.

The safety message appears on the back of buses which travel along roads where there has been an issue with kitchen fires.

Building work on six-screen cinema enters its final phase

THE opening of a new six-screen cinema complex in Harlow town centre is on schedule for later this year as construction work enters its final phase.

The project is one of the largest in a series of redevelopment works at the Harvey Centre which have been taking place since 2011.

As well as the Cineworld cinema there will be five new restaurants, three of which have already been snapped up by retailers including Tinseltown and Prezzo.

Building contractor Speller Metcalfe has been on site since the start of the redevelopment works and project manager Phil Turner is offering behind-the-scenes tours for the public to see how the work is progressing.

"The cinema has been a challenging but interesting part of the centre's redevelopment plans and we welcome anyone who wants to come and take a look," he said.

"We advertise our weekly site tour schedule outside the site office located on the walkway between the car park and main shopping centre."

Disruption

So far Speller Metcalfe has laid on site tours for more than 50 visitors while working to minimise disruption for retailers and shoppers. This has included working overnight and out of hours.

The cinema is due to be handed over to Cineworld in July and will then undergo a final fit out with a view to opening later this year.

Harvey Centre manager Bryan Young said: "We have been thoroughly impressed with how well Speller Metcalfe has kept our customers and tenants continually informed of all phases within this redevelopment."

"They've gone out of their way to arrange daily site visits for the public as well as drafting and distributing newsletters and responding to feedback forms from the public. This has drummed up a huge amount of excitement in the local community and we can't wait for the competition of the next stage."

Man injured in street assault

POLICE are appealing for witnesses to a suspected assault after a man was found in the street with a head injury.

The 34-year-old victim was found in High Street, Epping, in the early hours of Sunday, February 14.

He is believed to have been assaulted in Cottis Lane.

He was taken to hospital with a head injury and later discharged following treatment.

Police were contacted by the ambulance service.

Enquiries are ongoing and witnesses or anyone with information about the incident are asked to contact PC Peter Clennell at Loughton on the non-emergency 101 number or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

BIRTHDAY GIRL: Torey Fox was born on February 29, 2008

Eight-year-old who only has a birthday every four years

WHEN Torey Fox celebrates her 'second' birthday on Monday she will in fact be eight-years-old.

For Torey, who lives with parents Danny and Victoria, brother Billy and sister Bobbie in Oak Tree Gardens, Harlow, was born on February 29, 2008, a date which appears on calendars once every four years.

She will be celebrating her actual birthday for only the second time. "She is very excited about it", said mum Victoria.

"We usually celebrate it on February 28 but this year we get to celebrate on the day itself when she is having a party."

"I would hate to be born on this day in a leap year but she loves it. However, sometimes when she tells people at school when her birthday is they don't believe her, which makes her upset."

Torey, who also has another brother Tom, 21, was two weeks overdue when she was born on February 29. "By that stage I didn't really care anymore what day it was," said Victoria.

But Torey wasn't the only new arrival. "On the same day there was 13 girls and one boy born at Princess Alexandra Hospital so it seemed quite a popular day to have a baby," added Victoria.

■ If you were a leap year baby send us your photo and we will include it in a gallery on our website.

Petition calls on council to save 14 trees from axe

Plan seeks go-ahead for two detached homes on Green Wedge site

William Mata

william.mata@hertsessexnews.co.uk

HUNDREDS of people have signed a petition calling on councillors to throw out proposals to build two homes on private land in Harlow Town Park and cut down 14 trees.

The petition, which was started in response to an application to develop the site which lies within a conservation area off Park Lane, has so far gained almost 700 signatures.

John Mustafa, of pressure group Protect Harlow's Green Spaces and Trees, said: "We want a park-wide preservation order to stop all planning that removes trees, threatens any species of animal or any planning to turn a green space into a building."

"This latest application plans to cut down 14 trees and build on green land near the duck pond and almost on top of a badger set."

"We need as many people to sign as possible as we need to protect this amazing land."

Launched

The petition, which was launched last Wednesday, had been signed by 733 people by the time the Star went to press yesterday (Wednesday).

The application is currently being processed by Harlow Council. It seeks permission to build two three-bedroom properties with two detached garages and a new garden retaining wall.

An arboricultural assessment of the site prepared by consultant Oisín Kelly from Skilled Ecology said the 14 trees which would have to be removed from the site were of poor quality and not subject to preservation orders.

The report adds: "It is noted these trees are situated on the boundary with Town Park and their removal would have a significant visual impact that would need to be compensated for by suitable replacement planting that would likely need to be of a size to have an instant visual impact."

A design and access statement submitted by the applicant's agents, Edward Gittens Associates, said permission should be granted because of the "serious shortfall of available housing land in Harlow".

However, the authority has a track record for turning down planning proposals on sites within Green Wedge areas, which are intended to preserve the natural features of the town.

According to details of the application on the council's website, it does not represent a departure from the Local Plan and is not being treated as a major development.

A council spokesman said this week: "The application is within Green Wedge as designated on the current adopted replacement Harlow Local Plan 2006. It is also within the Town Park Conservation Area."

"The location for the proposed homes is within a private residential area. The planning application is currently open to public consultation which runs until the March 10. The application is due to be determined by the council before March 31."

Shy kittens need a new home and some extra TLC

THESE beautiful little kittens came into our care after they were handed in to our inspector by their owner who admitted things had got out of control.

The owner started with three cats but by not having them neutered she soon found herself with more cats.

Like a lot of cats from multi-cat homes, these kittens are a little shy as they have not received the TLC they need from a young age but given time and lots of care they will learn to love humans. Could you give them a loving home?

■ AS the weather begins to turn colder, spare a thought for our wild birds.

Lots of people like birds visiting their gardens but making sure they are cared for properly can be difficult. Knowing what sort of food to put out and how to protect feeding areas can be confusing.

Birds will benefit from being fed during some of the hardest times of the year, not just in the winter months. But what should you feed them?

The best things are suitable seeds and grains like nyjer, millet, oats and sunflower seeds. Only feed peanuts if they're unsalted, fresh and sold for human consumption or by a reputable feed shop.

Net-free fat or suet balls attract a wide range of species and provide a great boost of calories.

Keep bowls full of clean water and make sure bowls and feeders are placed far away from bushes and other areas where predators might hide.

Many garden birds die through transmission of diseases. It's important to clean feeders while tasks like rotating feeding and drinking areas will help reduce the transmission of disease.

Top dog Hagrid helping hospice with fundraiser

World record holder to lead sponsored event

A CANINE superstar will be making an appearance at St Clare Hospice's annual Winter Walkies fundraiser this weekend.

Hagrid, an 11-stone Leonberger who lives with his owners in Old Harlow, will be taking part in Sunday's 5km sponsored walk which starts from the hospice in Hastingwood.

Hagrid, who set a Guinness World Record for eating 14 hot dogs in 30 seconds, met some of St Clare's nursing team and volunteers when he visited the hospice last month.

Day therapy manager Emily Stowe said: "It is wonderful that Hagrid will be joining the pack at the Winter Walkies. It's going to be great fun and at the same time helps St Clare to raise vital funds for our work supporting local families."

The event starts at 11am with a number of dog-friendly activities, including a children's quiz and dog competition, before the walkers set off on the 5km route through the surrounding countryside.

When they arrive back at the hospice the participants will be greeted with a warming cup of soup and a roll. Dog rosettes and treats will also be handed out, along with certificates for children who take part.

Entry for Winter Walkies costs £10 for adults and £5 for children or £27.50 for a family of four. To register in advance, visit stclarehospice.org.uk/event/winter-walkies/ or call the fundraising team on (01279) 773750. Tickets will also be available on the day.

Villagers get deadline to express an interest in neighbourhood plan

VILLAGERS living in North Weald, Thornwood Common and Hastingwood have been given three weeks to decide whether to commit their time to creating a neighbourhood plan.

The deadline has been set by North Weald Bassett Parish Council after just over 40 people and 11 parish councillors attended a meeting to discuss the idea of drawing up a plan giving the community a say over future development and infrastructure in the area.

The council will only proceed if there is sufficient support within the community.

Principal financial and administrative officer Adriana Jones told the meeting a neighbourhood plan was a powerful tool which gave communities an element of control in terms of what happens locally with regards to land use.

"The parish is three villages - North Weald, Thornwood Common and Hastingwood - and there are over 7,000 residents," she said. "You are the only people who have come forward and said we should do it. This is not enough, it takes community involvement."

Parish council clerk Susan De Luca added: "At North Weald Parish Council we always like to ensure our residents have as much control as they can about the future of where they live, and I believe that is what we are trying to do with the neighbourhood plan."

The meeting was told that four developers have already approached the parish council saying they want to be involved with the neighbourhood plan.

Mrs Jones added: "The argument is whether 50 people are representative of 7,000 people in the parish. We need your help to raise awareness; we need more people than there is here tonight."

Anyone willing to commit time to working on a neighbourhood plan should have until Monday, March 7 to lodge an expression of interest with the parish council.

High-tech boost for nursing staff

Hospital given £1m for new hand-held devices

Gemma Gardner

gemma.gardner@hertsexnews.co.uk

NURSING staff at Princess Alexandra Hospital will be given equipment which will allow them to update patient records at the tap of the finger after the trust received a funding windfall of £1m.

The money from the NHS England Nursing Technology Fund will be used to purchase equipment to record information which can be viewed by doctors and senior nurses on mobile devices and from any computer in the hospital.

It will allow them to provide advice on a patient's state of health if they show signs of deteriorating before the medics arrive at the bedside.

Ian Hammore, senior lead nurse for IT, said: "The securing of the funds has given the trust the opportunity to deliver technology in to the hands of nurses to enable them to deliver more effective care at the patient bedside.

"The decision to go with electronic observations and escalation stemmed from a desire by senior nurses to better manage patients at risk of deterioration."

Dr Rishi Prasad, the trust's chief clinical information officer said: "It will change the way we look after our patients and deliver care. Within seconds of identifying a deteriorating patient a clinician will be made aware that they need to see the patient. This is technology that will change the face of clinical care at Princess Alexandra Hospital forever."

Professor Nancy Fontaine, deputy chief executive and chief nurse, added: "The ability to record and escalate patients' vital signs from the bedside will improve timelines of assessment and treatment and ultimately supports positive outcomes."

"Safety for patients and staff is our priority and using state-of-the-art technology to further improve our great safety record is a real opportunity."

The hospital intends to introduce the system on two wards by the middle of next month, with a plan to implement the system to adult in-patient wards by the end of the summer.

The aim is to move help the trust achieve NHS England's objective of achieving a paperless service by 2020.

RANGERS CLUB

New home for Charlie, the one-eyed hedgehog

MEET Charlie, the one-eyed hedgehog who is getting a second chance at life thanks to dedicated carers who have nursed him back to health.

In fact he is doing so well that he has been released into a specially built enclosure in a wood near Harlow where he is being looked after and fed.

Charlie was found by Monique Blackford, who has been rescuing juvenile hedgehogs in her area since 2014. Hedgehogs normally hibernate during the cold winter months but when Charlie was found back in October he was so small and underweight he would not have survived.

Soon after he was rescued, Charlie fell ill and stopped eating so Monique began feeding him three times a day using a syringe until he started eating by himself again.

But when he started showing signs of stress at being kept in captivity, the decision was taken to move him to a new woodland home built by warden Pat Forrest.

Charlie cannot be released back into the wild because there is a risk he could lose or damage his remaining eye. As a blind hedgehog, he would not survive.

"Knowing how these little creatures love to roam great distances and how stressed they get in small pens, I couldn't have wished for a better enclosure," said Monique. "I'm sure he'll be happy in his forever home and I'll keep in touch with Pat to check on his progress."

Forty years of fish and chips for Atlantic

ATLANTIC fish bar is celebrating a whopping 40 years of successful trading this year; owner Costas Christopolous came to the UK aged 22 with plans and dreams of making a better life for himself and his family.

He has successfully built and run four businesses, gaining a good reputation and the respect of all around him.

He first found work in the catering trade, an environment that was familiar, having previously been a waiter in his native Cyprus and finding a waiter job in Hoddesdon.

Tired of working hard for other people, he made the brave decision to start out on his own.

In 1976, he made the big step of opening his first business, Atlantic fish bar, serving traditional fish and chips to the residents of Harlow.

Costas wanted to offer something different and was the first to put a variety of kebabs on the menu. His success comes from offering fresh cooked food to order and understanding the marketplace by offering something different.

Some 15 years after opening Atlantic fish bar, Costas took the decision to open another fish and chip shop, so, in 1991, Marina fish bar opened its doors to the public in Old Harlow offering the same menu and repeating the success of Atlantic fish bar.

Marina fish bar is also celebrating 25 years of successful trading this year.

Not content with owning and running two successful fish and chip shops, Costas broke with tradition and decided to buy Chows Chinese takeaway at Slacksbury Hatch in Harlow and neighbour to the already-successful Atlantic fish bar.

Chows Chinese takeaway offers authentic, oriental dishes made to order and offers online ordering service with delivery to your door for £1 extra.

Costas made the decision to cook without using MSG - a choice that has proved popular with his regular customers.

With three successful businesses, Costas wanted to offer something back to the local community that had been so good to him, so approached Harlow Council and now offers a traditional fish & chip supper to the residents of local old people's homes on Fridays and has a special offer in both fish & chip shops on Mondays and Tuesdays and last year introduced a delivery service in Harlow and Roydon.

All food is cooked to order in rapeseed oil, known for its health benefits.

Two years ago, Costas decided to go back to his traditional Greek roots and opened Cork & Skewer restaurant, which is situated East Gate, Harlow.

Cork & Skewer is best described as offering modern English and Mediterranean cuisine and home to the traditional meze, Costas handed over the running to his son Jamie.

This welcoming restaurant often holds entertainment nights and is available to book as a wedding reception venue or other special occasions and is currently taking bookings for Mother's Day.

Cork & Skewer has entertainment nights on the February 26, March 18 and April 1 - call for information and to reserve a table.

Cork & Skewer last year launched a take-away menu and home delivery service and it's proving a success with local residents.

The restaurant is popular for its lunchtime menu and specials board.

Costas seems to have a knack of building and running successful businesses in an economy which has gone through some tough times with recession over the years.

He has done this with the help and support of his family and children - daughter Joanne also works in the business and helps manage the chip shops.

In celebration of 40 successful years of trading for Atlantic fish bar and 25 successful years for Marina, Costas would like to offer special lunchtime offers (valid for Atlantic fish bar & Marina fish bar only) - please see the advert below.

SINATRA: THE CENTENNIAL CONCERT

Harlow Playhouse

Friday, March 4 (7.30pm). £16.50-£19.50

David Alacey captures the legendary magic of Ol' Blue Eyes in a show that celebrates the 100th anniversary of Sinatra's birth. He is joined by the L.A. Showgirls, the Buddy Greco Orchestra under the direction of Paul Drakeley, and special guests Kenny Lynch and Anita Harris.

Sinatra tribute act does it his way . . .

MORE than 100 years since Ol' Blue Eyes' birth, Sinatra the Centennial Concert will celebrate the American singer and actor who was one of the most popular and influential musical artists of the 20th Century.

David Alacey has been performing as Frank Sinatra for more than 20 years and will bring his tribute show to Harlow Playhouse on March 4.

Audiences can expect guest stars, duets, play acting and of course all the hits from a career which spanned 60 years.

"I have been performing as Sinatra since I was 21, which was a long time ago!" laughed David, now 42.

"I had seen Frank live twice, which is what inspired me. It was in 1990 and then 1992 at the London Arena and the Albert Hall. He may have been losing his vocal powers by then, but his personality was electrifying. There have only been a few performers like that for me, him, The Beatles and Elvis."

Sinatra was a fantastic solo performer, but also famous for his duet work. He was one half of a legendary double act with Dean Martin and a member of the famous Rat Pack, which included Sammy Davis Jr and Shirley MacLaine.

"I will be joined on stage by Anita Harris, star of the Carry on Films," said David.

"We will do a few duets together and I will also welcome Kenny Lynch, who had a number one single with Up on the Roof.

"I enjoy doing the duets and of course Frank did two duet albums later on in his life."

David, who divides his time between Pitsea and Shropshire, has a personal Rat Pack connection through his friendship with Buddy Greco, who is godfather to his two daughters.

Greco is an original member of Sinatra's group. David is now also the proud owner of the jacket that Frank bought for Buddy many years ago.

"I founded the original UK Rat Pack and we're still touring, but being Frank is a full-time job for me and I have a show most weeks," he said.

"We include songs from throughout his career. We take a tour through different periods starting with his early days before his time with Columbia, Capitol and then Prize Records, leading up to when he first retired in 1970."

Sinatra later returned in 1981 and carried on singing up until 1994 and he died in 1998 at the age of 82.

David is faced with a tough job when he tries to condense such a long career into one evening, but his talent in replicating the great man sees him adapt to every era.

"I'm 42 years old, but I think my voice actually closer to his when he was in his 50s," he said.

"That era actually fascinates me the most, as he was trying out so many styles of music around then. He was a more versatile performer at the time.

"He has such a big catalogue of songs that I can always change them around and bring in some rarer numbers sometimes too."

Even with hits including Come Fly with Me, My Kind of Town, The Lady is a Tramp and I've Got the World on a String, David has a special place in his heart for one Sinatra classic.

"Still, even after all these years, my favourite is My Way," he added.

"I think it is a song that carries different emotions for different people, you either love it or you hate it, but thankfully, most people love it. I always get the biggest cheer for that one. It is a song that says a lot about the man."

"This job has given me an amazing life and I have met some wonderful people through it. The act attracts audiences of all ages and we have new fans coming all the time. I have even played at a university, which is something I never thought I would do.

"Frank didn't retire until he was 80, so hopefully I can keep going for a bit longer yet!"

■ Sinatra the Centennial Concert will be performed on Friday, March 4 at Harlow Playhouse from 7.30pm. Tickets start at £15. For bookings and more information visit: www.playhouseharlow.com.

Kevin brings the jazz to town

ACCOMPLISHED jazz musician Kevin Flanagan will be bringing his band and saxophone to Harlow this week.

Hailing from Lowell in Massachusetts, the American dropped out of high school to co-found the group Antares. The improvised and jazz-based musician toured New England and the UK in the mid-70s to early-80s.

During this period, Kevin was involved in blues and pop and was a keen performer.

He settled in the UK in the mid-80s and worked on the London jazz and pop scene, playing and recording with Ben E. King, B.B. King, Paul Weller, and members of Pink Floyd, Led Zeppelin, The Sex Pistols and Portishead, as well as various West African and salsa groups.

Kevin gradually became primality involved in jazz and toured the UK and Europe as part of his own group and the Tommy Chase Quartet.

■ Kevin Flanagan Quintet will perform at Marigolds, Chippingfield, Old Harlow tomorrow (Friday).

'People who liked the film will also like the show'

AUDIENCES at Harlow Playhouse will be whisked back to flamboyant 1920s New York in a stage adaptation of The Great Gatsby.

Black Eyed Theatre will perform F. Scott Fitzgerald's classic which has had a new lease of life through the release of the film starring Leonardo Di Caprio.

However, while Baz Luhrman's adaption had a modern soundtrack containing Beyonce, Lana Del Ray and Jack White, this version is firmly planted in the jazz age.

"It is a play with music rather than a musical," said producer Adrian McDougall.

"It features seven musicians who play all the parts in the show, and they create a sense of the 1920s period. It's very much part of the jazz age and it is reflected in the show.

"It is a beautifully written novel and the story is very central to what we are performing."

Originally published in 1925 the plot follows protagonist and narrator Nick Carraway, who moves to New York and is intrigued by his mysterious neighbour Jay Gatsby.

After being invited to a wild party Carraway begins to gradually uncover the shady world of business, love, grief and money that defines Gatsby, and finds himself being pulled in.

The novel was not initially well received but has since been established as Fitzgerald's best work and the 2013 film brought the story into the limelight to a new audience.

However, Adrian has created a more stripped back affair that deals in more subtle ways than the hyperbolic film.

"There are things in the stage play that you do not get in the film," said 40-year-old Adrian.

"Obviously we have to do things on stage and cannot benefit from a multi-million pound budget and we have to leave some things to the imagination of an audience.

"But on stage we can explore relationships more, and that side of the story through conversation. It is a different experience,

STAR: Max Roll in character as Jay Gatsby

JAZZY: Above: Celia Cruwys-Finnigan as Daisy Buchanan, and Max Roll as Jay Gatsby. Right, the cast

but I think people who liked the film would also like the stage show."

The three dates at Harlow Playhouse will be towards the end of the play's seven-month run which has toured all over the UK and will finish in mid-March.

Adrian said the length of time has been a drain on his cast but the time spent in character has allowed the performance to become polished and tight.

"This is the second leg of the tour and we originally started in September," he said.

"Now that the actors have been playing the parts for some time there is a certain kind of slickness to it, and hopefully we will see the same kind of standard and it will not lose quality.

"It can be a challenge for actors to do the show for this length of time."

Singer Heather set to perform her hits

NEXT month Heather Small will perform some of her greatest hits in front of adoring fans at Harlow Playhouse.

The 51-year-old is best known as the front-woman of M People, the band who have sold more than 10 million albums in their three decade history.

However, once upon a time Heather worked in an office. "I wanted to move heaven and earth to be a singer," she said.

"I used to walk into the ladies' at work, stare into the mirror and say, 'This isn't for ever', like I was doing time in prison."

The Londoner found moderate success through projects Hot House and Black Box but it was in house band M People that she found fame and fortune.

Singles such as Moving on Up, One Night in Heaven and Renaissance were all top 10 hits that helped establish the outfit as a leading light of British music in the 1990s.

However, the success wasn't without its challenges.

"Some people would say we were just a hit factory, and that we were formulaic," she said.

"But the thing is, no one has the formula - it is talent and it is luck. By the time I joined M People I'd had that experience of not making it, so we worked very hard. On this tour, the venues won't be as big as those I played with M People but I'm happy with that."

After the band's first greatest hits album in 1998 Heather has pursued a solo career, and in 2000 released her biggest solo single to date Proud.

The song went on to be used in the campaign to secure the 2012 Olympics for London and helped keep the singer in the public eye throughout the new decade.

Heather has never stopped working hard and this latest tour, in comparatively intimate venues, is a reflection on an immaculate life's work.

Heather Small will perform at Harlow Playhouse on Sunday, March 6. Tickets cost £35 and can be bought from www.harlowplayhouse.co.uk.

"All the actors involved are professional. There are seven playing the main parts and all but one play one or two minor characters too."

Adrian founded Black Eyed

Theatre in 2004 in Bracknell which remains their base despite the company expanding in size over the 12 years from local to national productions.

The Great Gatsby will be performed at Harlow Playhouse from Monday February, 29 to Wednesday, March 2. Tickets start from £14. For bookings and information visit www.playhouseharlow.com.

Secrets In Their Eyes

THRILLER: (15) 111 minutes

Director: Billy Ray

Starring: Chiwetel Ejiofor, Nicole Kidman, Julia Roberts, Dean Norris, Alfred Molina

Hollywood has never been shy about resetting the delicate, glittering jewels of foreign cinema as gaudy showcases for A-list stars.

Henri-Georges Clouzot's taut 1955 thriller Les Diaboliques was reborn as a hoary 1996 potboiler starring Sharon Stone and Isabelle Adjani, while Wim Wenders' seminal meditation on mortality Wings Of Desire, was saturated in sickly sentiment for the 1998 update City Of Angels, starring Nicolas Cage and Meg Ryan.

The smouldering French thriller Anthony Zimmer took on a lacklustre second life as The Tourist pairing Johnny Depp and Angelina Jolie, while Spike Lee's remake of Park Chan-wook's 2003 cult classic Oldboy was an exercise in BACK ON THE CASE: Chiwetel Ejiofor and Nicole Kidman team up in action thriller Secrets In Their Eyes bludgeoning violence.

So when Argentinian writer-director Juan Jose Campanella won the Oscar for his serpentine 2009 thriller El Secreto De Sus Ojos (see Mike's TV Film of the Week, left), it was only a matter of time before an English-language version surfaced.

Perhaps we should be grateful that writer-director Billy Ray has waited six years, affording us sufficient time to forget about the jaw-dropping coup de grace that Campanella orchestrated with flair in his picture.

The sturdy structure and hairpin twists remain firmly in place in Secret In Their Eyes, but the original film's politically charged setting – the volatile period before Argentina's Dirty War – has been replaced by the paranoia and fear that percolated across America in the aftermath of the September 11 attacks.

In 2002 Los Angeles, FBI counter-terrorism officer Ray Karsten (Chiwetel Ejiofor) assesses possible threats emanating from a local mosque.

He is called to a crime scene close to the mosque and identifies the raped and mutilated body of a girl in a dumpster as Caroline Cobb (Zoe Graham), the daughter of his good friend, Jessica Cobb (Julia Roberts), who works as an investigator for district attorney Martin Morales (Alfred Molina).

Flanked by his partner Bumpy Willis (Dean Norris), Ray promises Jess that he will apprehend the killer and they identify a comic book-obsessed misfit called Marzin (Joe Cole) as the prime suspect.

Ray and assistant DA Claire Sloan (Nicole Kidman) attempt to entrap Marzin, but Morales warns them off because the oddball is a police informant.

"That boy is untouchable. Welcome to the war on terror," growls the district attorney.

Thirteen years later, Ray identifies a man who he believes is Marzin in disguise. He reunites with Jess and Claire to solve the case, but reopening old wounds comes at a terrible price.

Unfolding in dual time frames 13 years apart, Secret In Their Eyes is a competent update of a vastly superior tale of retribution and regret.

Ejiofor, Roberts and Kidman are solid in underwritten roles, the latter distinguishing herself in an electrifying interrogation room scene.

A bold final flourish should stun audiences who haven't had the intense, nerve-racking pleasure of watching the original.

What camera do you use? I use Nikon Coolpix L310 or my camera phone.

What was your first camera? It was so long ago that I can't remember!

Why do you take photos? Mainly I take photos to capture a moment in time, to have something to look back on, and remind me of events and people.

How long have you been interested in photography? I've always enjoyed taking photographs but it's only been the last few years that I have tried to take better photos, rather than just 'point and shoot'.

What type of photography you are interested in: I take all kinds of pictures – people, nature, events....anything that captures my imagination.

Chilled out and feeling mallow

WE managed to sneak away for a few days over half term, down to North Devon.

We stayed in a pretty little village called Chittlehampton near Barnstaple, although Jim insisted on calling it the Shire. I think this was mainly influenced by the fact that the cottage (which he called Bag End) had very small doors and low ceilings which meant that the only place Jim could stand up straight was on the stairs.

He had to shower on his knees and bend nearly double to get through the doors. I, on the other hand, found the cottage perfectly proportioned and very cosy, with the added bonus that I could reach all the cupboards and fittings very easily.

We had a good time, helped enormously by the fact that the village had a great pub called the Bell Inn, which served good food and had an extensive gin list, including a new one on me, Wicked Wolf of Exmoor, a small batch-made spirit made in the wilds of Exmoor.

The village also boasted a post office and shop, which sold locally-made cheddar and clotted cream which you had to request from behind the counter and was spooned into a unmarked plastic tub for you to take home.

I got baking as soon as we got home. Which of course meant we had to have the following three arguments:

- is it scone rhyming with cone, or scone rhyming with gone?
- should scones have sultanas in?
- jam then cream, or cream then jam?

I'm not even going to try and answer the first question, as I know it raises considerable agitation with certain people. I heard that the Queen says scone semi-finalist Saira Hamilton

rhyming with gone, so that is some guidance, I guess. I like sultanas, but Tommy doesn't, so we tossed a coin and he won.

The Cornish tea has jam and then cream on top (which I prefer, with apologies to my Devonian mother-in-law) and the Devon cream tea should have the cream on first. What a minefield to pick your way across for a tea-time treat. The clotted cream was delicious, which was the main thing.

After a short break, I usually feel energised to get back into the creative side of cooking, so I decided to tackle something I have been meaning to try for ages. Marshmallows.

I had bought a sugar thermometer a while ago, but it was still in its packet and buried at the back of a drawer. But I found it and got to work.

The ingredients are really quite simple: white sugar, liquid glucose (which you can find in most supermarkets with the baking ingredients), water, gelatine leaves, egg whites and vanilla.

The only tricky bit is getting the temperature of the sugar

SWEET TREAT: Sugar, glucose and water has to be heated to 127°C or the 'hardball' stage before gelatine sheets are added, then the hot syrup is combined with egg whites and whisked correct, but the thermometer takes all of the guess work out of that.

The sugar has to be heated to the hardball stage. When I told Jim I was going to play hardball with the sugar he hurried out of the kitchen in case it turned violent.

I used a James Martin recipe for my first attempt and it worked really well. The main

5-6 tbsp icing sugar, for dusting
5-6 tbsp cornflour, for dusting

Method

1. Soak the gelatine leaves in 140ml cold water in a small bowl.
2. Place the granulated sugar, glucose and 200ml of water into a heavy-duty saucepan and bring to the boil.
3. Cook over a medium-high heat until it reaches 127°C or the hard ball stage on a sugar thermometer. This could take up to 15 minutes.
4. Place the egg whites into a very clean grease-free bowl and whisk to firm peaks. An electric whisk or stand mixer is best as there is a lot of whisking!
5. Add the soaked gelatine sheets and water to the hot sugar syrup carefully. Stir through until dissolved, then pour into a heatproof jug.
6. Continue to whisk the egg whites, then pour the sugar syrup onto the egg whites, whisking all the time until the whites are shiny. Try not to pour the syrup directly onto the whisk attachments but rather down the side of the bowl.
7. Add the vanilla extract and continue to whisk at a medium-high speed for at least five minutes, but it may take up to 10 minutes. The mixture needs to be thick enough to hold its shape on the whisk.
8. Lightly oil a shallow 30x20cm baking tray and dust the tray with some icing sugar and cornflour. Spoon the marshmallow mixture into the tray, smoothing the top with a palette knife.
9. Place in the fridge for at least an hour to set.
10. Dust some more icing sugar and cornflour over a board or clean work surface, use a palette knife to loosen the edge of the marshmallow, then turn it out onto the dusted work surface.
11. Cut into squares and roll in the icing sugar and cornflour to coat well and then store in an airtight tin or jar. Serve with chocolate sauce or fruit coulis for a yummy dessert.

thing to bear in mind is that it takes quite a while for the sugar syrup to get to the right temperature.

I used my digital thermometer as well because I didn't trust the analogue one, but it worked okay. It is important to be very careful with hot sugar - don't ever touch it with your fingers and use a good sturdy Pyrex jug to pour it onto the egg whites slowly. This is not a recipe to do with small children I would say.

The other thing is that you will have to wash everything in very hot water afterwards, as it is the only way to deal with the hardened sugar.

But it really wasn't difficult and the results were absolutely delicious. Soft, pillowy, melt-in-the-mouth, more a texture than a flavour, and I felt inordinately proud of myself when they were done.

I have a feeling I will be making more of these from now on, and am planning to experiment with lots of flavours. Gin & Tonic marshmallow anyone? [Not half - Features Ed.].

For Killer Sudoku, the normal rules of Sudoku apply. However, in addition, the digits in each inner shape (marked by dotted lines) must add up to the number in the top corner of the shape.

PATHFINDER

Beginning with the highlighted square, follow a continuous path to find the listed Pokemon characters. The trail passes through each and every letter once and may twist up, down or sideways but never diagonally.

GARDENING >with Hannah Stephenson

Spring-clean your greenhouse

It's time to give your garden an early spring clean if you want to make a head start on seed-sowing under glass. Hannah Stephenson looks at how to keep your greenhouse in tip-top condition and what seeds you could be sowing ahead of spring

Make the most of the first sunny day to give your greenhouse a good clean if you plan to start sowing seeds soon.

A clean greenhouse means plants will be less vulnerable to pests and diseases and, if you zap them now, your undercover growing area won't become a breeding ground for nuisances.

Before you start, take out as much as you can and turn off the power to electric points, covering them to stop any water splashing them.

The best tools for cleaning the outside are a good hose and a long-handled soft-bristled brush for tackling the roof glass, and a large sponge. Give it a good rub to remove algae and, if panes overlap, use an old plant label to ease out the dirt and then rinse the area with a hose. Replace cracked or broken panes or get a professional to do it.

Clear greenhouse gutters, removing soggy leaves and debris which could end up in water butts or block your drains. Get a long-handled brush to get rid of the rubbish before it enters the downpipes.

Once the greenhouse is empty, give the floor a really good sweep and get rid of clutter like broken pots, out-of-date feeds and other junk.

Wipe down surfaces with a scouring sponge and wash flower pots and seed trays with disinfectant before thoroughly rinsing and returning to their place in the greenhouse.

Horticulturist Frances Tophill, co-presenter of ITV's Love Your Garden and guest speaker at the forthcoming Edible Garden Show in Warwickshire, says: "The art of a good greenhouse is to have a more or less constant temperature.

ADVICE: Frances Tophill

"In the winter, a heater might be required or a little bubble wrap on the glass.

"Plants will suffer most if their foliage is in direct contact with the cold glass, so move them away during the winter months."

The warmth provided in a greenhouse will help a multitude of insects to overwinter in the warm and come back with gusto in the spring to attack your plants.

"To avoid that happening, give your greenhouse a big winter clean-up, paying particular attention to any standing water where larvae may well be multiplying."

Now is the time to think about growing your early vegetables.

"Early carrots and parsnips (make sure you use one that is canker resistant) are ideal to start in February," says Tophill. "It's also a great time to start your garlic and small onions or shallots. If you have the luxury of a greenhouse then now is the time for growing all your tomatoes, peppers and aubergines.

"Also grow radishes, brassicas and all your peas, including late sweet peas. Now is also the time to get that summer bedding going. So start sowing cleome, dahlias, ricinus (castor oil plant), snapdragons and cerinthe."

Many plants just need the protection of a frost-free environment to germinate, so can be grown in a non-heated greenhouse or in a cold frame.

"Some seeds actually need a period of intense cold known as stratification before they will germinate. So it is all a matter of looking at your seeds, reading the packets carefully and treating them accordingly. If you only have a non-heated greenhouse, I find a windowsill in the kitchen works a treat!"

Our job is all about listening

We have been very pleased with the purchase of our new home.

Intercounty were by far the best agents we dealt with whilst looking for a property. You listened to what we were looking for, notified us as soon as something suitable came available.

The efficiency and professionalism of all involved surpassed our expectations and really made moving house a whole lot easier and less stressful than we feared it may have been. We are very grateful and wouldn't hesitate in recommending you to others.

You have been experiencing some really mixed emotions which have made it hard for you to know what to do. Take your time. Who said you have to rush? Allow yourself time this week to process your emotions. You can choose the right path if you do my friend. Gemini brings new work opportunity. Ring now so I can tell you what else your future holds.

FOR WEEKLY AND MONTHLY READINGS CALL 0911 8532 348 65p per minute

TAURUS APRIL 21 – MAY 21
Your ruling planet Venus is making you more emotional than usual. So much so in fact, that you may end up accusing your close ones of things they haven't done. Careful Taurus, you could end up forcing a loved one's hand if you're not careful. Listening, rather than talking can fill in the real facts you need to know. Ring now to how foreign shores beckon and mix with work opportunities.

FOR WEEKLY AND MONTHLY READINGS CALL 0911 8532 349 65p per minute

GEMINI MAY 22 – JUNE 21
I know you were confused and you lost your way, but this week you're finally back in the land of the living. A difficult air between you and a family member is improved by the involvement of a third party and life starts to feel as if it's back on track again. Text messages tell lies so be careful of what you believe. Ring now so we can make the most of your week ahead.

CANCER JUNE 22 – JULY 22
Travel plans bring mix ups and last minute changes, so be ready to think on your feet and be flexible to other needs. Your ruling planet the Moon brings out your confidential side at the weekend when you may end up telling secrets you've been keeping since last year. This can be a positive thing, as you'll soon discover. Ring now to find out what Venus is planning for you.

FOR WEEKLY AND MONTHLY READINGS CALL 0911 8532 351 65p per minute

LEO JULY 23 – AUGUST 23
You feel a strong need to get answers and you don't care who you have to insult to get them. This forceful attitude could earn you a few enemies this week though, so try a softer approach if you want to keep friendships intact. You may not realise it, but you are coming across in a rather harsh manner. Ring now to hear how romance and white lies seem to go hand in hand.

Young tenpin bowlers move on to national finals after regional success

SIX members of Harlow's Youth Tenpin Bowling Club competed in the South of England Junior Open held at Dunstable's tenpin centre.

The tournament attracted 400 entrants from the age of seven to 21 from youth clubs from as far afield as Yeovil in Somerset and King's Lynn in Norfolk.

Competing in the singles and doubles events, all six bowlers managed to better their Harlow league average and four ended the competition with podium finishes.

Jack Rust and Lucy McCanna finished in first place in the graduate handicap section for 16 to 18 year olds whilst Holly Clarke and Henry McCanna finished in second place in the intermediate handicap section for 12 to 14 year olds.

The fifth member of the team, Charlie Collier, bowled 143, beating his previous personal best by one pin, in the last game.

A sixth member, 11-year-old Reece Emerson bowled a very creditable 22 pins per game, above his Harlow league average.

The next tournament is the National Championships in May at Dunstable.

NUMBER ONE: Dawn Jones won two gold medals at the Southern Veterans Championships

Dawn rises for veterans gold

DAWN JONES secured a gold medal at the Southern Veterans Championships at the Lee Valley Athletic Centre in North London.

The Harlow Athletic Club member won the women's 45 age group 200m in a time of 29.99sec at the weekend.

This was despite being on a very tight inside lane.

She also won the W45 400m in 67.72.

Meanwhile the club held its annual meeting on Sunday when the following officers were elected to the committee:

Chairman – Steve Lott; vice-chairman – Chris Clark; secretary – Paul Avontuur; treasurer – Catherine Bauer; coaching director – Paul Bailey.

Bailey said: "HAC is keen to continue its very strong relationships with Mark Hall Sportscentre, Harlow Running Club, Harlow Parkrun and the Harlow schools' community."

"We also have three new coaches going through training now to join our team and as ever are keen for extra help."

Ping pong trio's English joy

HARLOW table tennis players shone at a tournament involving 69 players from 39 schools across Essex.

The youngsters took part in the very first Essex Regional Singles event sponsored by the Jack Petchey Foundation in conjunction with the English Schools Table Tennis Association (ESTTA) and Table Tennis England.

The competition was held at Batts Table Tennis Club in Elderfield, Old Harlow.

All were playing for the chance to compete in the Jack Petchey Foundation London & Essex Schools Finals to be held on Saturday June 11 at Brunel University in London.

Luke Jones, 18, a Harlow College student, triumphed in the men's U19 category and now moves on to the regional finals.

He said: "I love table tennis and have been playing competitively for about four years."

"It's so much more enjoyable than other sports and needs a strategic mind. I can't wait for the final as it will be the first event of its kind."

Luke played for Essex at junior level and hopes to represent the county at senior level.

Callum Boyce, nine, a pupil at William Martin Primary, won the U11 men's category.

Alana Mansfield, 11, a Freshwaters School student, was victorious in the girls' U11 category.

Club county best after thrilling final chapter

Penguins swimmer Karl now targets Olympic trials

Swimming

ALESSANDRO RIODA and Karl Batorski provided the icing on the cake last weekend at a thrilling climax to the Essex County Championships for Harlow Penguins.

Alessandro confirmed his status as the top 12 years boy in Essex and Karl was similarly successful in the men's open age group category.

They helped Harlow become the leading club in the championship with more medal winners overall than any other club in the county.

"These honours represent a huge step up for Penguins, this is the first time since the closure of the old pool that the club have claimed an overall top place," beamed head coach Martin Stringer.

Alessandro claimed gold in the 200m individual medley (IM) in a time of 2min 36.38sec, which was an incredible eight seconds ahead of his nearest rival, who happened to be another Penguin, Max McAuliffe.

Max's storming finish claimed the silver medal in a 2:44.92.

Alessandro also claimed gold in the 200m butterfly where his time of 2:43.36 saw him squeeze home by three-tenths of a second.

Alessandro also won two silver medals in the 100m breaststroke where his time of 1:23.41 was an eight-second improvement on his previous best.

In the 200m freestyle he picked up silver in 2:24.71.

Batorski dominated the men's open 100m butterfly, using the event as part of his preparation for competing in the British Championships in Glasgow in April, which act as an Olympic trials in April.

His time of 56.13 was too good for the opposition and confirmed his position as the county's top sprint specialist.

Penguins' other county champion was Carys Brealey, who cemented her spot as a top freestyler in winning the 100m freestyle in a new personal best (PB) time of 1:03.33.

Carys also claimed second in the 200m backstroke where her time of 2:38.06 was a nine-second improvement on her PB.

Max McAuliffe came into the championships with little or no preparation due to illness and injury, however he showed all the fighting qualities his coaches know he has in producing a series of outstanding swims.

Over the weekend he claimed a bronze and two silver medals in the longer distance events.

His second place in the 400m freestyle in 5:07.89 was impressive and he followed this up with a further silver in the 200m IM and bronze in the 200m freestyle.

Hayden Thomas's time of 2:37.78 claimed bronze in the men's 200m breaststroke.

In the U14 boys, Penguins

Squad gets grip on tournament

Judo

A TEAM of 11 Harlow Judo Club players secured medals at the Red and Yellow Belt Championships in Cambridgeshire.

The squad travelled to Comberton Judo Club for the tournament.

They picked up five golds, five silvers and four bronze medals. There were very mature performances from the players and all competed at a high standard.

A few of the players competed in both the Red Belt and Yellow Belt sections and picked up medals in both groups.

George Franks, nine, a newcomer to judo, competed in his first Red Belt competition.

Other Red Belt winners were: Gold – Fleur Salhi (9), Ralfy Webb (8), Kenzie Deamer (9), Fionn Healy (10).

Silver – Sam Cobbin-Brown (9), Oliver Taylor (8), George Franks (9).

Bronze – Charlie Armstrong (9), Seth Horsley (9).

Yellow Belt: Gold – Jake Salhi (11).

Silver – Matthew Chapman (11), Seth Horsley (9).

Bronze – Ralfy Webb (8), Kenzie Deamer (9).

Harlow Judo Club coach Sarah Brown said: "I am very pleased with all the performances, in particular Kenzie, who had some tough fights but worked well with me to succeed in a tactical defeat.

"I was very impressed at how well he listened. Well done to George who performed in his first competition, picking up silver."

Meanwhile, Owen Lambert, ten, represented the club in the Northern Home Counties Orange Belt and Below competition in High Wycombe.

Owen won his first fight, but lost his second, which meant that he dropped into the compound knockout (repechage), where he secured third place and a bronze medal while competing against a very tough field.

England mark club's 40th anniversary

AN England Indoor Bowls Association team took on a side from Harlow's Tye Green to celebrate its 40th anniversary.

It was back in 1972 that plans for an indoor bowls club in Bush Fair were first mooted.

But it was 1976 that the plush complex in Tilegate Road finally opened.

Led by Tye Green president Don Spear, a mixed team from the Harlow club played a mixed England side led by president Jenny McConnell, last week (both teams pictured above).

Tye Green won the game 174-153.

"Nine rinks were filled and a great bowls match was played in the true spirit of friendship," said club secretary Maurice Peacock.

Among Tye Green guests invited for the match dinner after were three founder members: Joyce and George Wyatt and Peggy Rodd. They were part of the original eight who helped get the construction of the club off the ground.

When the club opened there were six rinks, but in the 1981-82 season three more were added.

The club is home to England international Steve Mitchinson.

Rams lack Beccs factor

THE Rams' promotion chances were all but ended as they were held to a disappointing 8-8 draw at bottom club Beccles in RFU London Division Three North East on Saturday.

Missing several key players and on a miserable, wet and windy afternoon, Harlow started well and were encamped in the Beccles' 22m area.

The hosts defended well to deny Harlow a try, but conceded a penalty from which fly-half Danny Smith slotted home to give the Rams a 3-0 lead.

There was no further score in the half as the conditions prevented conducive rugby.

Three minutes into the second half Beccles drew level with their own penalty.

On 50 minutes, Harlow put Beccles under pressure on their 10m line.

A drive through the forwards by centre Wayne Heapy surprised the Beccles pack as he crashed over the line for a converted try.

But the hosts hit back on the hour as their large Fijian number eight broke into Harlow's 22.

A crashing tackle by James Clarke stopped his advance, but did not prevent him offloading the ball to a winger who levelled the score.

Persistent offending saw the Fijian yellow carded halfway through the second half, but Harlow could not take advantage of this.

Penalties were missed by both teams as the match was drawn.

The Harlow man of the match was tight-head prop Danny Fitzgerald.

Lee Harron's side are now 13 points adrift of second-placed Old Cooperians back in fourth place.

The Rams have a break now and next host West Norfolk on March 5.

Meanwhile, the Harlow Ladies lost 59-0 against Woodbridge, but the U13 boys' triumphed 30-10 against Luton.

THE title was secured by Harlow in the perfect culmination to a thrilling season.

Ben Light's men wrapped up the Division Six South East crown nearly five weeks before the end of the season.

They won their crunch match against Clacton's seconds in a nail-biting 2-1 thriller at Leventhorpe School.

While making their gap at the top 13 points with only 12 left to play for, it also avenged their only defeat from earlier in the season against the seaisiders.

Within a minute of the first whistle, Harlow keeper Richard Norris was called into action, forcing a strong stick save against the opposition forward.

Pressure

Clacton's pressure continued to mount as the Harlow defence soaked up wave after wave of attacks.

With 15 minutes on the clock, Norris made another crucial reflex save to keep the scores deadlocked.

The hosts finally began to mount their own assault, breaking on the counter, then maintaining pressure through the midfield.

Neat play by the Harlow wingers allowed space and soon the visitors were punished as a flurry of penalty corners were awarded to the home team.

Andy Boughtwood stepped up and his strike was cleared off the line.

Disaster struck for Harlow on the stroke of half-time when a loose pass in defence left Clacton's forward in a one-on-one with Norris, and he duly converted his chance.

Stung, Harlow came out for the second half with the bit between their teeth and equalised after just 60 seconds.

Kim Harvey released a direct ball to Benn Hagger, whose diagonal run allowed him to drive to the back line with a Clacton defender on his heels. Hagger took his time to execute a pinpoint accurate pass to Boughtwood, who was well placed to tap in and make it 1-1.

The tempo increased and Clacton looked as though they might record a repeat of their 2-1 win from the first half of the season.

But the hosts also created further chances, and Harlow's determination finally paid off with what proved to be a winning goal.

Hagger received a solid pass from James Morris deep in Harlow's 23.

Hagger went on a mazy, skilful run into Clacton's D and fed Boughtwood, who rifled home.

After a nailbiting final ten minutes Clacton went close when a strong, solid strike skimmed past Norris's pads but was expertly deflected away on to a post by Harvey.

At the other end, Harlow had a goal disallowed.

The visitors ramped up the pressure late on with a series of short corners and free hits.

The pressure, combined with the difficult conditions, saw Solomon Castillo yellow carded for a late tackle.

But Harlow held on for the points they needed and celebrated with Champagne after the final whistle.

Clapton Up, Up and away after second-half blitz destroys struggling side

THREE tries in seven minutes right at the start of the second half blew away Upminster as London Division Three North East leaders Epping Upper Clapton increased the gap.

The hosts got off to a great start when Tim Matthews crashed over from a line-out move for the first unconverted try after five minutes.

But Upminster hit back five minutes later with an unconverted try of their own.

Midway through the first half Clapton grabbed a second try when Laurie Dobbin picked up and drove over.

Kurtis Knightley converted.

From 12-5 at the break it quickly became 29-5.

Outside centre James Kilden scored straight from the restart. The ball was spun through the backs and Kilden zipped through from 30 yards out for an unconverted try.

Prop Clinton Dorling crashed over minutes later, which Knightley converted, before Kilden scored a second try.

Two minutes from time Dorling added the final try, again unconverted, to wrap up the scoring.

Boss slams 'worst ever refereeing' as run ends

HAWKS boss Danny Chapman labelled Saturday's performance from the referee as "the worst" he has ever seen in his career in football and was shocked the match wasn't abandoned after the man in black was forced to quit through injury.

Harlow Town fought back to claim a point at Dereham Town after being 2-1 down at the break.

Referee Philip Crossland was forced off with what appeared to be a hamstring injury with about 20 minutes left.

Chapman said: "People always go on that it's hard for refs. But I would say it's the worst refereeing display that I have ever seen in football. Not just on our part but for them [Dereham] as well, for both sides.

"I don't know what level the man is at but he shouldn't be at this level. They got their first goal from a throw-in which was our throw-in [and given to Dereham].

"The linesman that was on our side said 'it was your throw-in but I'm not allowed to disagree with the referee'. But you can still put your flag up in the direction you think the throw-in was in."

Injury

A Dereham fan, a qualified referee, filled in as an assistant as one of the matchday linesmen took control after Crossland's injury.

"From their point of view once he had to come off, the game should have been stopped. Fair play to the fella that came out and said he would do it, but it was like Sunday morning [football]," Chapman said.

Having secured a club record 12 successive wins, Chapman was sad that this streak was over but pleased his side remained 14 games unbeaten.

"The run has gone on, we didn't get beat. They [the Harlow players] are disappointed they have not gone on and won the game."

After Mario Noto's early free-kick struck the bar for Harlow, the visitors took the lead on 11 minutes when the same player's flag kick from the left was nodded into the top right corner by the unmarked Leon Antoine just outside the six-yard box.

The hosts were level on 19 minutes when Craig Bussens' superb delivery was headed into the top right corner by Ryan Crisp.

A minute before half-time Crisp's free-kick somehow found the bottom left corner to give Dereham a half-time lead.

Harlow then got the break they needed when Dereham right-back Vadin Constandachi stupidly hacked down Alex Read on 65 minutes.

Read, who missed a penalty against Thurrock the previous week, blasted the spot-kick to the right but the keeper saved with his legs.

But the Hawks salvaged a point when Junior Dadson cut the ball back and Craig Pope popped up with the equaliser when he stabbed in from close range at the near post.

Harlow sub Ryan Melaugh hit a post with a shot in stoppage time as Harlow's winning run came to an end.

Benjamin has Hawks' rivals on the ropes

Boxing sessions paying off for transformed winger

by Alan Scott

HAWKS' rejuvenated winger Joe Benjamin is certainly boxing clever as he targets promotion with Danny Chapman's side.

The 25-year-old former Northampton Town player has been a revelation over the last seven weeks – after taking up boxing.

Benjamin has been training with team-mate, former Reading and Stoke centre-half Ibrahim Sonko, at professional boxer Keegan Hargreaves' gym in Loughton.

He has already lost more than 4kgs since he started the boxing training two months ago.

It has given him that extra pace and sharpness, but he hasn't lost any of that physical presence which makes him a tough opponent.

Formidable

Think of Jonah Lomu powering through Mike Catt in the Rugby World Cup semi-final between New Zealand and England in South Africa in 1995 and you get the picture of Benjamin's formidable presence as he powers through an opposing right-back.

Having spent a frustrating first half of the season on the subs' bench at Harlow, an impromptu chat with Chapman gave Benjamin the drive to nail down a starting spot.

He explained: "He [Chapman] said to me 'I would play you but you need to get fitter'."

"I went away with my mate Keegan, who is a boxer. I have been training twice a week for two months. I'm getting back to myself. I feel sharper."

"I train at KGM Boxing in Loughton. I'm still trying to lose some weight but every game I'm getting fitter. I have lost nearly half a stone now."

"I do get in the ring and do a bit of sparring. I enjoy it."

"I have been working hard and he [Keegan] is a really good trainer."

"Sonko comes with me as well. Keegan has helped me. He's a boxer, he's a lightweight. He's very, very good. I'm just going to keep doing it. It's getting me in the team and that's good."

Benjamin, signed in the summer, is determined to get into an even better shape.

He relished his time at the Cobblers but is happy at The Harlow Arena.

The winger explained: "When I was a pro I was a stone lighter, but I had the strength as well. I played for Northampton for a few years and I enjoyed it."

Certainly Ryman North right-backs will not envy coming up against him – he is so hard to get the ball off because of his size.

On the back of 12 successive wins, Harlow climbed to second in the table, but are now third.

"We just need to take every game as it comes. If we keep sticking together as a unit who knows what can happen?" he said.

"I don't want to say we're going to win it and get ahead of ourselves. We will take every game as it comes."

Rocky road for player on a Premier mission

JOE BENJAMIN believes the Hawks must take a leaf out of Rocky Balboa's book as they look for promotion this season.

The 25-year-old (pictured right), who has taken up boxing, has been further spurred on by a trip to the cinema to see Creed, a spin-off from the popular Rocky franchise.

He says this has inspired him to believe Harlow can finally seal the deal and go up to the Ryman

Premier Division next season.

He said: "I watched that boxing film Creed the other day. In it he [Rocky, played by Sylvester Stallone] said 'step by step, punch by punch, you can do it'."

"And that's what we are trying to do [at Harlow Town]. Step by step, punch by punch, and work our way up the league."

"I have had a few clubs but I love it here. I've had interest from higher clubs. I said to Chappo [boss Danny Chapman] I will fight for my place. He's given me my chance and I'm trying to take it."

Benjamin was at Ryman Premier side Dulwich Hamlet last season, but has loved his spell in Essex and enjoys the tremendous team spirit and camaraderie at Harlow.

The winger said: "The team spirit we have got here is massive. We are altogether. I believe we have the best team in the league."

The club has been on an incredible run since the start of January and have emerged as favourites for promotion.

Benjamin added: "In November a lot of people doubted us. But Chappo just said 'stick at it'. It's better to be near the top rather than have the other teams chasing you."

'Title dream over' says Chapman

Ryman North
Soham Town Rangers 1

HAWKS boss Danny Chapman confessed the title dream was over after his side saw their 14-game unbeaten run shudder to a halt with a late sucker punch at Soham Town Rangers on Tuesday.

And the Harlow Town boss has told his side they might need seven more wins to secure a play-off place.

Only the heroics of Hawks keeper David Hughes kept the score goalless until Soham struck with almost the last move of the game.

Chapman, whose side are 12 points behind leaders AFC Sudbury, said: "I'm more disappointed for the players because of what they have done over the last two months where the title might have been a possibility.

"I can't see Sudbury losing that many games for us to catch up, but our aim was always the play-offs.

Inept

"Out of our remaining games we might need 20 points to cement it."

Despite an inept display, Harlow, missing the injured Junior Dadson, looked to have earned a point, but deep into injury-time Jordan Gent headed home from close range to cap a miserable night for the visitors.

Hughes made four excellent first-half saves.

The Hawks struggled to create any on-target chances all game.

Just as it looked as though the game was heading for a stalemate, in the third and final minute of added time, a floated ball into the area was headed home from close range by defender Gent.

Chapman added: "That was our poorest performance to date, that was more disappointing than the result."

Harlow will look to bounce back on Saturday at home to Aveley in Ryman North.

On whether striker Alex Read will take Harlow's penalty should they win one in this game - having missed two in the space of a week - Chapman said: "I will wait and see what happens. Alright, he's missed two penalties in a row but think about all the ones he's scored."

HAWKS NEED YOU

Co-owner urges town to back side in promotion push

by Alan Scott

alan.scott@hertssexnews.co.uk

HAWKS co-owner Tom Cunningham has launched a passionate plea to Harlow residents as the football club continues to struggle to get fans through the gate.

Despite Harlow Town's record-breaking run of 12 successive victories which catapulted Danny Chapman's men into second in the Ryman North table, matches are being watched by fewer than 300 people.

The issue of poor gates in a town of nearly 80,000 came to the fore when the league record-equaling win over Wroxham was watched by barely 160 people.

Cunningham said: "It's almost as if the town doesn't need the football club. It's such a shame. All we can do is keep plugging away.

"People have got to start supporting their football club. People have got to take a step back and say 'it's not expensive, it's good fun'. We need some help."

Cunningham rescued the club from the brink of liquidation when he took over as co-owner alongside chairman John Barnett in 2010.

The pair, plus other directors, have pumped thousands into the club, including paying for installation of the £350,000 state-of-the-art artificial pitch amid an ambitious plan to take the club into the Vanarama National League, the top level for non-league football.

Cunningham said: "If you look back at the last three seasons, I don't know much more the team can do, or us, the manager and the staff.

"There's the best part of 90,000 people in our town. If we got one per cent (900) I would be happy and have a smile on my face - but we don't even get that.

Interest

"If you look at what we have created over the last three or four years and the pitch that has allowed us to do that, we have got 22 sides. We like to think at some stage it would create an interest just with those people.

"We were averaging last year just under 300. That just scratches the surface. We are doing everything we possibly can, on and off the site for promotion.

"It's not just about the football club. It's about the site being part of the community.

"We will continue to do that. But I don't know where we go from here. We went 11 games unbeaten and we had 160 people at home to Wroxham.

"What does the population want? I know we are in competition with Tottenham, in particular but when they are away from home we would expect a groundswell, but there is no groundswell.

"What we will have to do is get in touch with Harlow Council, the Harlow Sports Trust and everyone involved in the move to help us get up the league and get us as high as we can.
